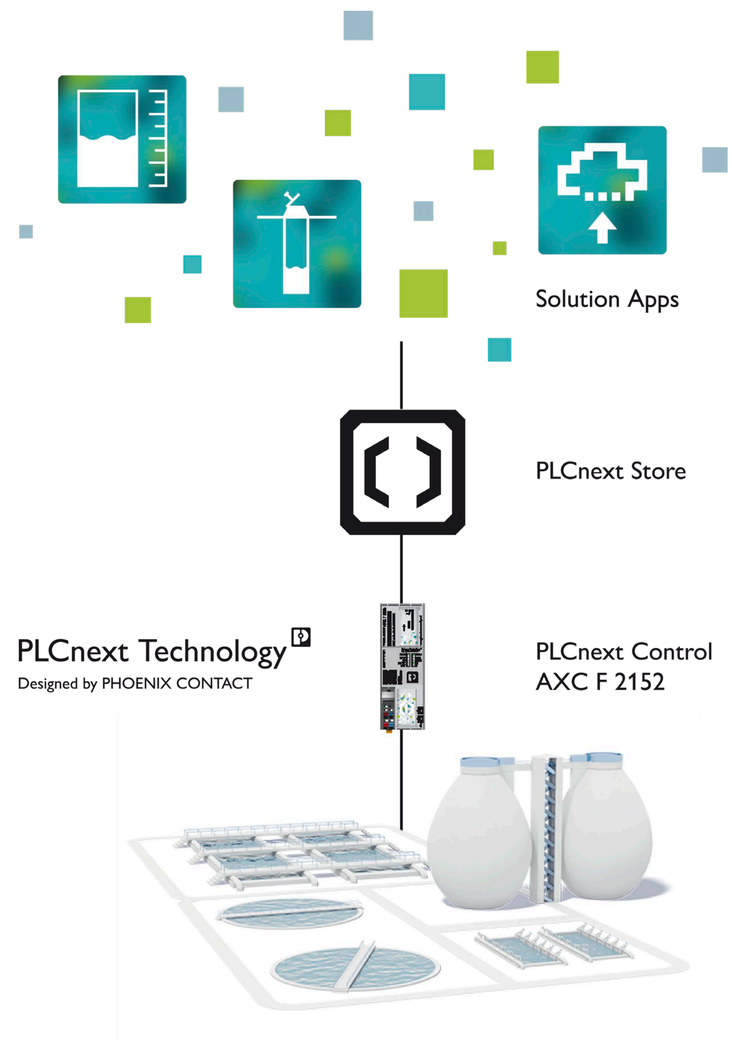
Automation solutions for water and wastewater

Phoenix Contact is the worldwide market leader of components, systems and solutions in the area of electrical engineering, electronics and automation. With a team that is networked across the world and collaborations with industry partners, Phoenix Contact is a reliable partner for water management. We provide automation, communication and remote control technology for drinking water and wastewater systems, as well as process automation in water and wastewater treatment plants. The tailor-made solutions rely on open interfaces, from the control room, to the network and control levels, to the field level.


With the new and unique PLCnext technology ecosystem, we provide all developers and operators the possibility to use an open platform to create and find new solutions for their own application. In this way PLCnext Technology opens the door into the future.
